INTRODUCTION

Some Credits and Explanations

This list was developed to help genealogists in their quest for information about ancestors buried in Forestville Pioneer Cemetery. When we started our own pursuit of family history in the 1970's, the wonderful tombstone of Warren Griswold and his wife, Loana Cutler helped us on our way. We would probably never have discerned Loana's maiden name or the birthplace of either of these great-grandparents without the help of the one who ordered this stone carved by S Ard of Smith Mills (photo opposite). We must credit the recent visit of John and Martha Mulkin of Carterville IL for the gentle push that inspired us to undertake this project.

This past year, our interest in the Noah Jones story (see page 65) renewed our acquaintance with this hallowed ground. The search for the truth about Noah Jones also led us to revisit Joe Bolivard whom we knew from our childhood in Forestville. Mr Bolivard shared the paperwork he had on Pioneer and helped and encouraged us in every way to bring about the completion this work. We commend him for his volunteer placement of special plaques on the gravesites of veterans in this and other Town of Hanover cemeteries. He has also rescued from oblivion pieces of discarded stones, has carefully repaired these, has searched for original location of these stones and reset them. Mr Bolivard makes himself available to researchers looking for burial places of ancestors and searches out information on those who otherwise cannot be found.

George Knapp has had charge of Pioneer Cemetery and its records since 1969. We thank him for allowing us access to maps and records in his possession. If records from the beginning had been kept as carefully as those since Mr Knapp took over, this work would not have been necessary.

The List

We divided the cemetery into seven sections and gave these sections letter designations A through G (see map opposite page 1). Within each section we read the gravestones in rows starting with row 1 on the east (front) and read each row south to north (left to right). Each stone has its number starting with A.01.01 which indicates this stone is in section A, first row, first stone.

We have printed two lists, the first arranged alphabetically. When a name is located on the alphabetic list, one can check its stone number in the second list to locate it on the map and walk right up to it in the cemetery. By checking the list arranged by location (stone number) the researcher can check those individuals buried on the same lot or in the same area to determine relationships.

Abbreviations

In the information/comment column a few abbreviations were used; w/o, d/o, s/o indicate wife of, daughter of, son of. Ages were often stated as #y#m#d indicating the age in number of years, months, and days, with ae meaning age. When we used the term, "surname assumed," only a given name had been carved on the stone but that stone was on a lot with others of that assumed surname. If the date had not been engraved, ne = not engraved.

Early Settler's List

For many years we have used an unsigned and undated list of burials in this cemetery that appeared in installments in four issues of Early Settler's magazine in the 1930's. We do not know why this list was selective—some stones appeared on this list and others in the same area did not. After we had done our reading of the stones, we checked with the earlier list. We were pleasantly surprised that very few stones have disappeared since the earlier reading. Where we did not find a stone, we used the information from Early Settler's in our alphabetical list using italics to distinguish those from the ones that still exist. In a few cases, stones still exist but dates and other information is missing or illegible. The missing information was added in italics. In some cases our reading differed from the earlier reading. We rechecked carefully and if there was a difference in the two lists, ours is correct.

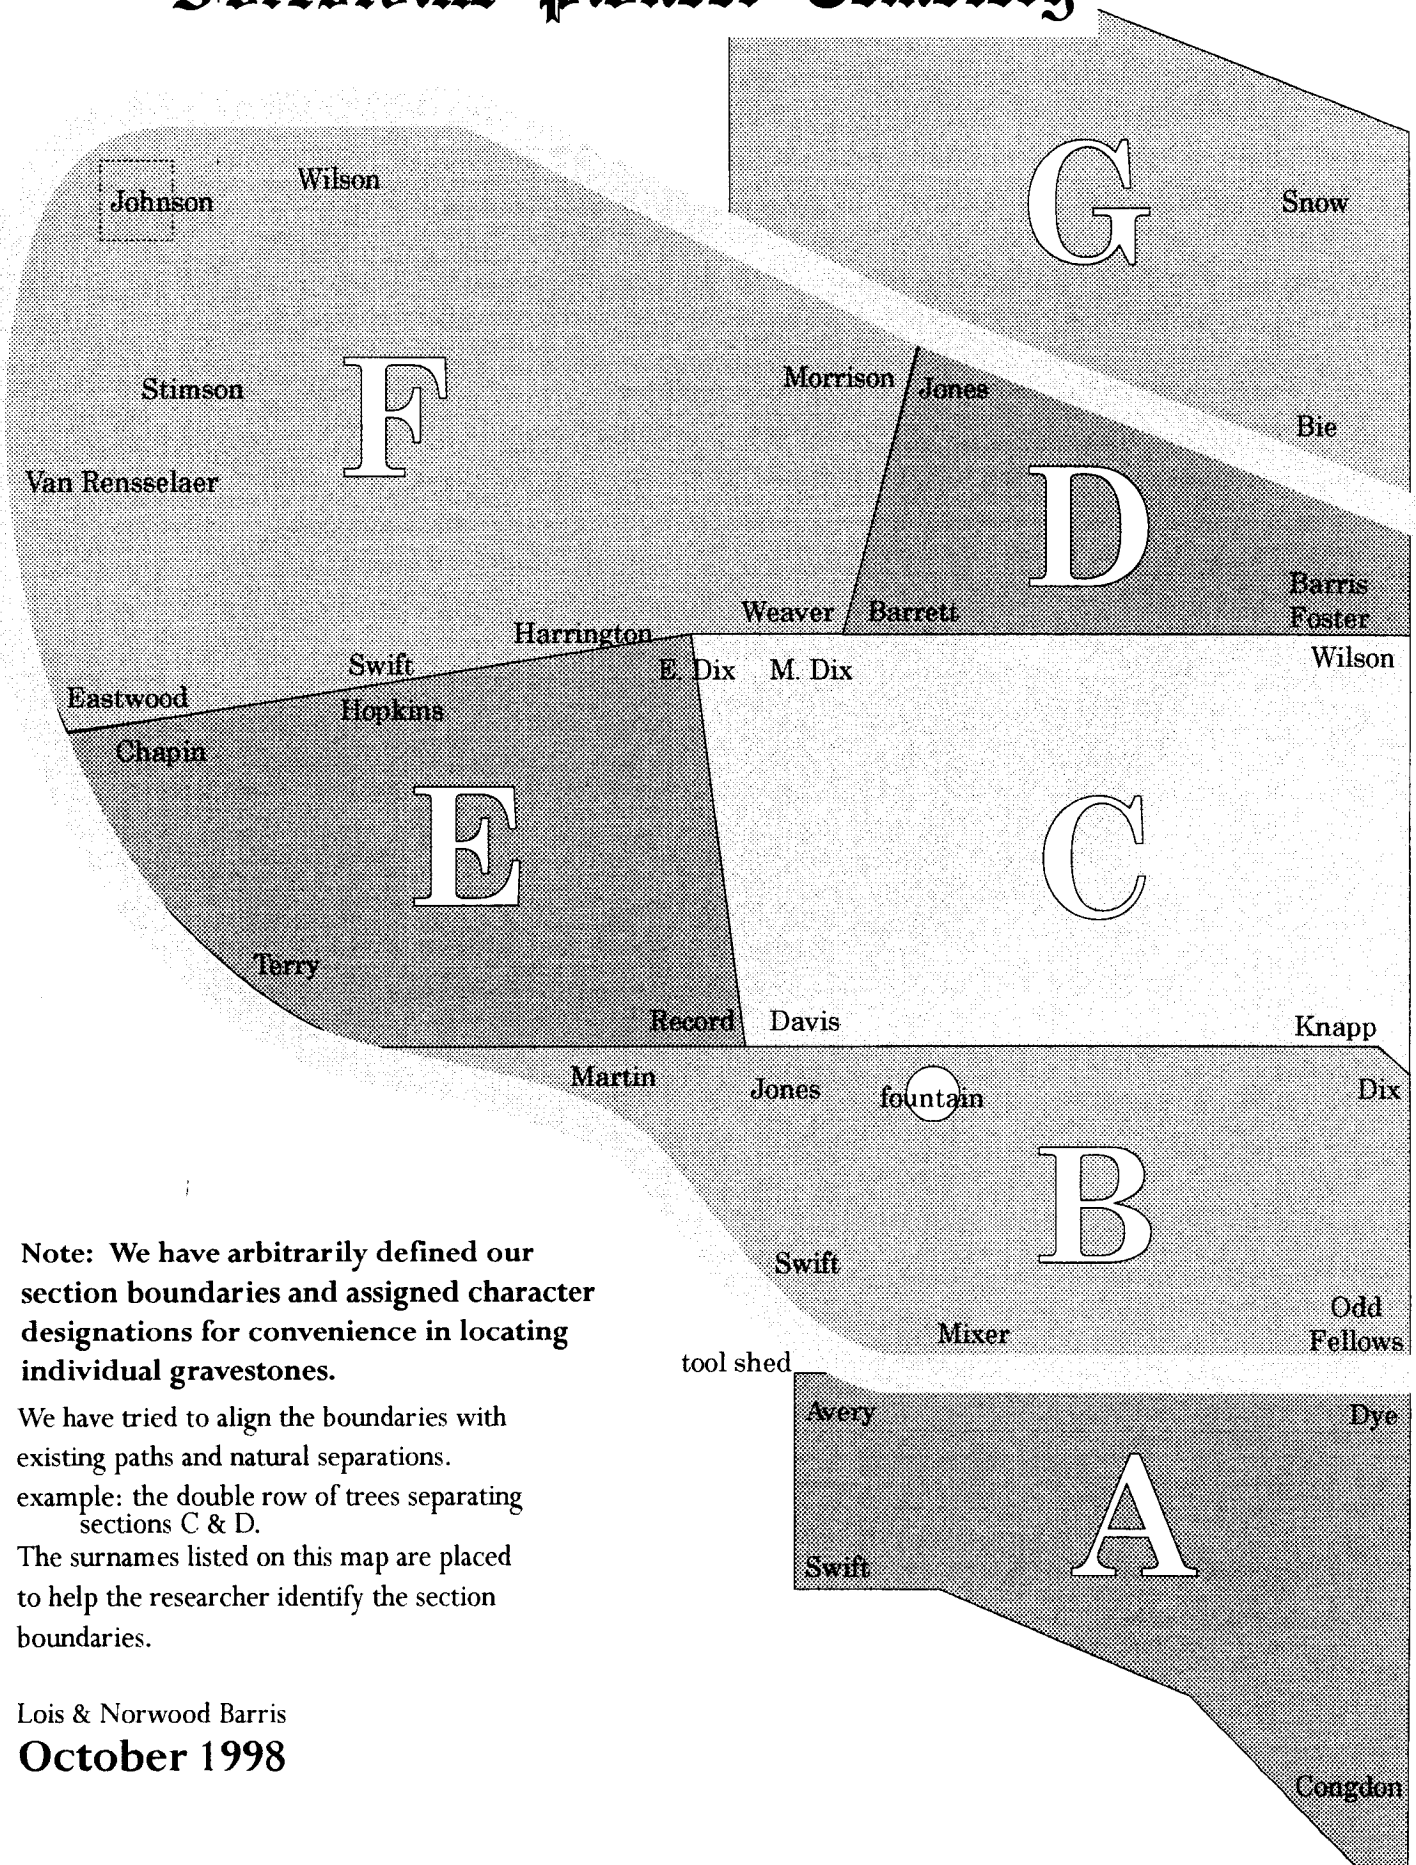

Some Favorites

Forestville Pioneer Cemetery was a wonderful playground in our childhood and now is the resting place of many relatives and life-long friends. We enjoyed the beautiful autumn days recently spent in their company. Pioneer is well cared for and the old stones are in excellent condition. Our favorite stone is the one that marks the grave of Samuel Morrison who died in 1827. This example of skilled stonemason's art, was intricately carved and signed by J B Stutson. The stone next is also interesting in its text, "Lurena Denison, 3rd wf of Asa Denison, former wife of Samuel Morrison." And a favorite spot, the grave of cousin Floyd Barris who in life was famous for his garden crops. At this site was a sprawling pumpkin vine, complete with fruit! Is Floyd is still maintaining his garden?

If it is true that one is not truly dead until the last time his name is spoken, we have kept alive for a while longer the 1900 or so souls interred in Forestville Pioneer Cemetery.

Forestville Pioneer Cemetery

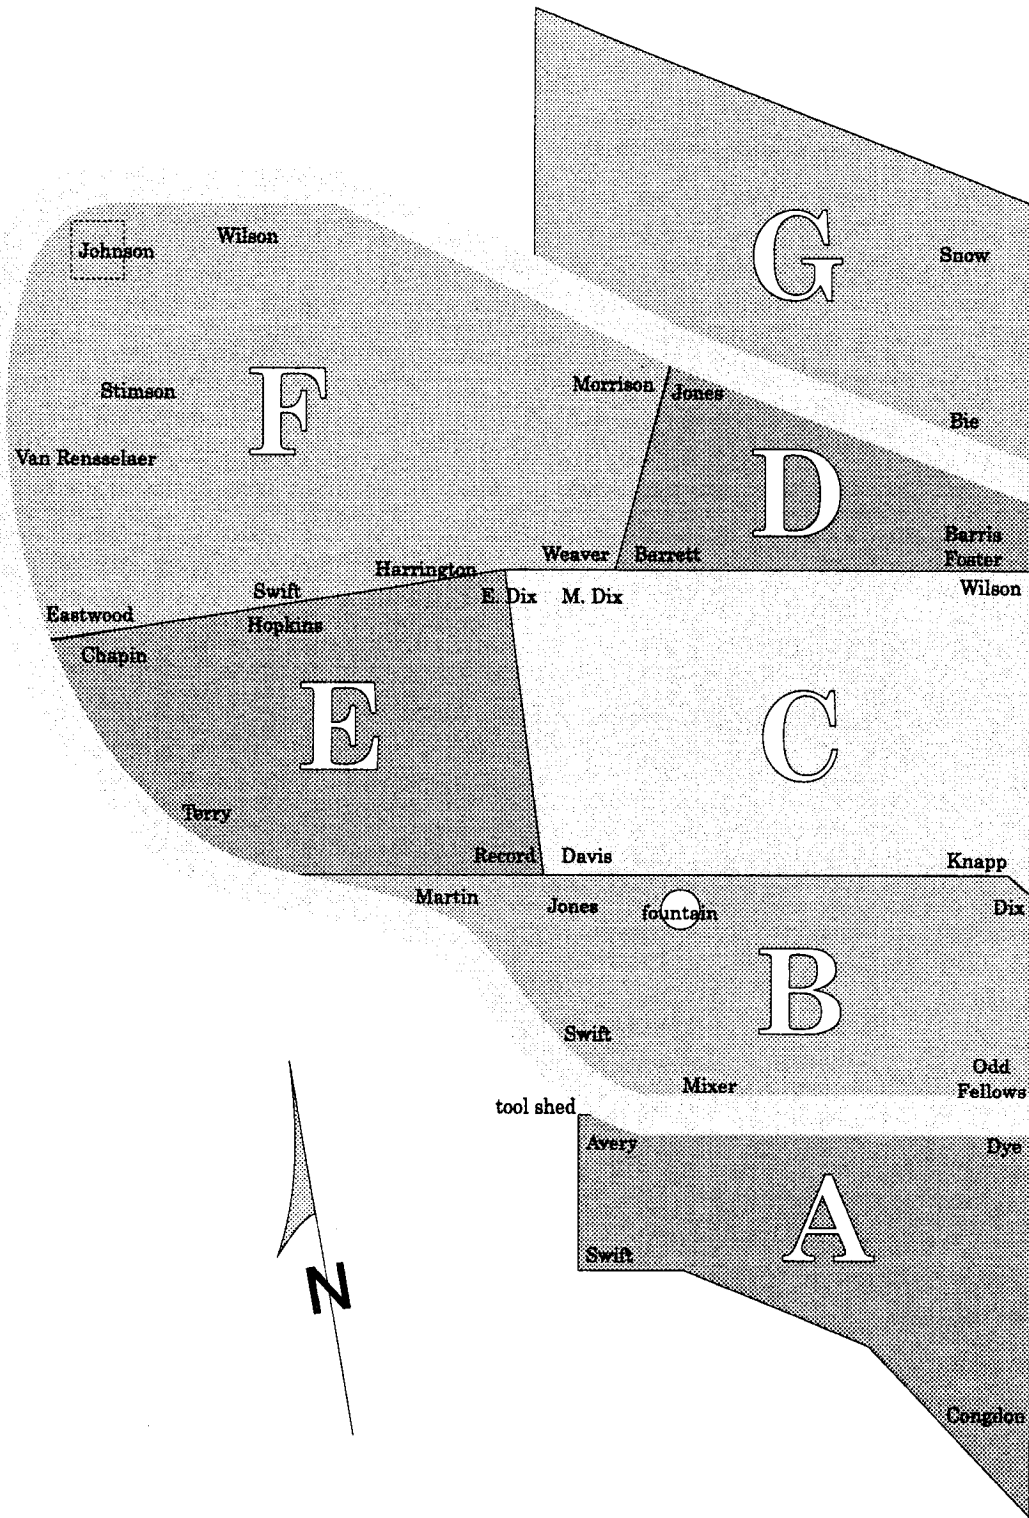

Note: We have arbitrarily defined our section boundaries and assigned character designations for convenience in locating individual gravestones.

We have tried to align the boundaries with existing paths and natural separations.
example: the double row of trees separating sections C & D.

The surnames listed on this map are placed to help the researcher identify the section boundaries.

Forestville, Chaut. Co., N. Y.

Scale JULIUS A. FARSONS

Owners of PIONEER CEMETERY LOTS
 Town of Hanover, Forestville, New York
 (as laid out and designated on the map made by Julius A Parsons)

Original list copied in 1960 by Fannie Swift Dye
 Recopied in Sept., 1977 by Melba M. Knapp
 Recopied July, 1998 by Barbara van Vlack
 Supplied by George Knapp, Secretary-Treasurer, Pioneer Cemetery Board

The so-called sections are primarily rows running the entire width of the original cemetery and numbered one to fourteen, counting from the road back to the rear of the old grounds. The lots are numbered south to north. In the very rear of the old grounds in designated section 14 there are four rows referred to as tiers (example: Sect 14 T2). We have alphabetized the listed owners. Mr. Knapp can pinpoint each and every individual lot.

The following "Burials since 1969" are from the current records kept by the Association Secretary. The first two columns designate the year and month of burial. The final column represents the date of death or if (b)=burial date. If the date of death is followed by a "c" it signifies cremation.

AND WHO SHALL SPEAK FOR NOAH JONES

The first time we ever heard of Noah Jones was July 13, 1997. The Evening Observer carried a feature article about the Civil War re-enactment group operating out of Forestville. The article details one of the group's projects — that of marking the graves of Civil war soldiers with a plaque that gives the name and unit. Joseph Bolivard, a captain in the group of re-enactors, tells of stumbling upon a confederate soldier named Noah Jones 'Soldier of the Rebellion' buried at the Pioneer Cemetery in Forestville. Mr. Bolivard is quoted, "We have to assume that based on the terminology, that he is a Confederate."

In 1979 The Very Reverend Frederick Ward Kates, the late war historian from Silver Creek had written that "Efforts to discover additional information about this soldier, involving miles of travel and hours pursuing every lead, have yielded no results. ... That Noah Jones is identified as a "Soldier of the Rebellion," not the usual characterization of a soldier who fought in the Union or Federal forces, sparked the compiler's suspicion that he may have been a Confederate soldier, coupled with his inability to find him connected with any Civil War unit in which county men served."

In a 1983 Evening Observer article on Hanover's Civil War Dead, Rev. Kates listed "Noah Jones (Confederate Army)."

Upon reading the July 1997 article, this cynic thought, "HMMMMM, what possible scenario could have a Confederate soldier who died August 13, 1864, be buried so deep in Yankeeland?" And the terminology, "Soldier of the Rebellion" certainly would not lead us to think Confederate since official documents of the American Civil War carry the title, "War of the Rebellion." And certainly, there were many other localities from which a patriotic Union soldier could have enlisted. Assumption and suspicion doesn't make it true and viewing something in print doesn't guarantee it to be a fact. Our curiosity was aroused, and being long-time genealogists, we are used to the kind of detective work needed to answer the above-stated gnawing question.

The first step to the answer was a trip that very day to visit the tombstone in Pioneer Cemetery just north of Forestville. This large tombstone, as pictured in the Observer article, was easily found with its confederate flag prominently displayed. The pictured side of the stone faced Bennett State Road. The article left out the interesting information found on the other faces of the stone, indicating that on the same lot were buried Russell Jones, his two wives, both named Sarah, and their children Effie, Noble & Artie. From the ages, Russell could have been an older brother of our Noah.

Now we have a starting place. We headed for the 1860 census record and found in Silver Creek a listing for a blacksmith named "Mr" Jones aged 31 with a wife named Sarah and children named Effie and Noble. There was no Noah Jones listed with this family, but a Noah Jones, a farmer aged 21, born in Pennsylvania, was listed in the family of Mr Skellie in the town of Mina, Chautauqua County. We felt quite certain we had found Russell Jones of the Pioneer Cemetery, and though the age was right, we made no assumption about the Noah Jones of Mina.

Next we went to the court house in Mayville and searched land records. Bingo! We located the key bit of information. In 1858 Russell Jones of Crawford County Pennsylvania purchased land on Bennett Road in the Town of Dunkirk. In subsequent years he sold that land and purchased land in Silver Creek, later in two locations in Forestville. Land descriptions at each place included blacksmith shops.

Armed with the information that Russell Jones came to Chautauqua County from Crawford County PA, we checked the 1850 census records for that county and found Noah Jones, aged 12, in the family of Ebenezer (aged 53) and Betsey (51) Jones in the township of Troy. Other children in this family were Ebenezer (18), Levi (17), Anna (14), and Henry (7). In this enumeration, all but Henry are listed as born in New York. Henry was born in Pennsylvania. Nearby, in the family of W. Poss, a blacksmith, Russell Jones, blacksmith, aged 21, is enumerated. The Ebenezer Jones family is missing from the 1860 census record. A check of Crawford Co. cemetery indexes turned up an Ebenezer Jones who died 25 August 1854 and was buried in Baker cemetery in Crawford County Penna.

Next we went to indexes of Civil War records for the state of Pennsylvania and found that a Noah and a Levi Jones enlisted at Titusville, Crawford County in Co D, 18th Regiment of Pennsylvania Cavalry on 8 Sept 1862. The muster rolls give no further information about Noah Jones, but lists Levi as missing in action at St. Mary's Church, VA 15 June 1864.

With a name and now a military unit, our next step was to send a request for records on Noah Jones of Co D, 18th Regt PCV to the National Archives. Within weeks we had confirmation of all of our assumptions. Though Noah Jones enlisted in Titusville, his home address of record was in care of his brother Russell Jones, Silver Creek, Chautauqua County NY. He served as a Private throughout the war with Co D, 18th Regt., though from June 20 through Dec of 1863, he is listed as "acting O. S. Sergt." He arrived at the general hospital in City Point, Va (also noted as Alexandria, VA) in very poor condition on August 9 died of typho-malarial fever on August 13. His body was embalmed and shipped to his brother Russell Jones in Silver Creek, NY.

On the official records Noah Jones is listed as single, age 25, born in Crawford Co PA, residence at enlistment, Silver Creek NY; nearest relative, Russell Jones, brother. Noah is physically described as 5 feet 11 inches high; dark complexion, dark eyes, dark hair, and by occupation a farmer.

Approaching the task as a genealogical search, this information was not difficult to acquire. We learned much about the Ebenezer & Betsey Jones family. They lived in this county and sold land in the town of Ellington in 1837. Russell Jones died in 1888 and was survived by his second wife and one daughter, Hattie. The widow Sarah Baldwin Jones died in Sherman in 1893. We did not discover any descendants of this family alive today.

We are happy to report that Joseph Bolivard and his committee have placed a plaque at Noah Jones' grave site in Pioneer Cemetery properly identifying his loyal Union service in the Pennsylvania Cavalry.
