CEMETERY INSCRIPTIONS

RIPLEY TOWNSHIP

Chautauqua County, New York

Chautauqua County is the westernmost county in the State of New York, and the Township of Ripley is in the southwestern corner of the county. Bounded on one side by the state of Pennsylvania, and on another by the waters of Lake Erie, the county and the town become the Gateway to the West.

The first white settlers bought land here from the Holland Land Company in 1803 and the county came of age through population growth in 1816. The first documented burial in the township was in 1812 and through deed of gift, the surrounding acre came the nucleus of the first public burial ground, known as the East Ripley Cemetery. The First Presbyterian Church had been built in 1824 on adjoining land and when this church chose to consolidate in 1854 with the Second Presbyterian Church built twenty years earlier in the village of Quincy, the land was given to the Cemetery Association. The cemetery was incorporated and for the first time, lots were marked off and sold.

About 1854 another cemetery near the village was incorporated and is still known by its original name: Quincy Rural Cemetery. When the hamlet changed its name from Quincy to Ripley, only the cemetery retained the older name with the result that none can recall for whom or for what Quincy had been named.

There was one mass removal of graves from the original burial site to Quincy Cemetery; the Goodrich Family stones found in Section "E", lots 35 and 36, were moved in May 1886 from the family burying ground on Main Street near Barnes Road. A report of this may be found in the local newspapers of that date.

Those are the largest cemeteries in the town, and both are in current use. The Baptist Union Burial Ground was established in 1847 and continued in use for about twenty-five years, with only scant data remaining about its existence. It has not survived, but research by the historians has given us a partial list of those who were buried there.

South Ripley is a small cemetery, still in use for occasional burials in that part of the township.

Northville Cemetery is in Pennsylvania, just over the State Line, and lots there were purchased by residents of both states. It is used only occasionally and is properly cared for.

How this information was gathered:

Within the last decade each cemetery was read, copied, checked, and brought up to date. The sexton of each cemetery was most gracious in sharing the information collected by his office. The last step in the preparation process was the gleaning of genealogical information from the records of the Ripley mortician. It was this source, kept since 1923, that provided the names of parents of the deceased, as well as other information important to a genealogist. Another source for this information is in the burial permits, also kept since 1923, which are filed with the Town Clerk.

Where to find additional information:

Several sources are available for further research.

For genealogy on a wider basis, you may join the Chautauqua County Genealogical Society, P. O. Box 404, Fredonia, NY 14063. Dues (in 1994) are $10.

Vital records in New York State begin about 1880 but access and use are restricted. In each township they are in possession of the Town Clerk, and copies may be selectively obtained for a fee. The office of the Ripley Town Clerk is in the Ripley Town Office Building, Park Avenue, Ripley, 14775; Tel:(716) 736-6881. Those marriage records which begin in 1908 and continue through April 1935 are duplicated in a file held by the County Clerk and may be somewhat easier to obtain. No others are available on a county level except termination of marriage records which are, of course, restricted - restricted, but not necessarily sealed. If this is what you need, ask; the people who work in this office are pleasant and helpful and if they can legally provide you with records, they will try to do so. The County Clerk's office is in the County Court House, Mayville, New York, 14757; Tel: (716) 753-4331.

While death records are filed with the town clerks, and while they are not open for public perusal, burial permits are somewhat easier to access and may provide needed information. In this township the file of burial permits begins with 1923 deaths and continues to the current recordings. To contact either historian for the first time, call or write the office of the Town Clerk.

For many years the Ripley Town Historians have continued the compilation of Family Group sheets for every family we know to have lived in the township. There is a great deal of information there, yours for the asking, plus postage.

Using cemetery inscriptions as a source of genealogy is becoming increasingly unreliable as our social customs change. For whatever reason, cremation is more acceptable and quite frequently we find that the cremains are buried under a favorite tree or perhaps cast to the winds over Lake Erie. And who is to tell of it? The mortician who supervised the disposition of the cremains has a record of it, someone in the family may know of it, but the written data on which we have always relied is no longer there. One parent families and change-your-partner households in common practice today will compound the task of matching offspring to ancestor a frustrating one.

THE INDEX

Although each cemetery is recorded separately, there is one encompassing index.

It was not the aim to list every occurrence of every name, but the listing of one familiar family member will direct the searcher to others of like surname or of possible relationship. When several members of one family are found in one cemetery plot, it seemed sufficient to index only the adults. Get acquainted with the index; it is unlikely that any actual recorded burial is omitted entirely.

REFER TO FILE THJ

Mr. P. M. Miller,

Land & Tax Agent.

Dear Sir:-

Our recent conversation in re Italian laborer, who was killed and buried at Ripley by the Town.

I find this was Charles Barceleno, laborer employed in concrete gang. If Supervisor McGinnis will be so kind as to render bill or an itemized statement for expense of burial, our Claim Dept. will look into the matter and if, in the meantime, no complications arise, they believe they will be in position to grant his request. This will all depend on the amount of bill and the amount due deceased in wages.

Yours truly,

HMT

ISAAC S. MILLER,
Asst. Land and Tax Agent.

Dear Mr. Ginnies.

Since I saw you I learn that there is coming to the dead of Italian, two payments, one of 14,98 in hands of Agent at Ripley, and another in hands of paymaster of about the same amt. I have asked to have both held until you can hear from them, I think there is enough to pay the bill for funeral expenses.

Faithfully

Phin M. Miller

BATES, Jonathan not buried in this cemetery but obviously buried in the surrounding area. In the woods off Irish Street there is a cellar hole of a long-gone house and this grave marker may have been used as a doorstep. It reads:

"Jonathan Bates died January 20, 1840, aged 67 years, 8 months, 5 days"

BAPTIST UNION BURYING GROUND

1847-1863

RIPLEY, NEW YORK

The only known written records concerning this abandoned and obliterated cemetery are in were found in church records. There was a list of the first (and perhaps all) burials, a list of twenty-seven names. The first is dated March 1847; burial number 18 is dated February 9, 1853 and those remaining numbered through twenty-seven are without dates

This is a contemporary list, but there is nothing to indicate whether it is a partial list, or if it was discontinued at this point. Several later readings and lists were made at different times, all of which appear here.

Baptist Union Inscriptions in 1935

Notes in the handwriting of Miss Viola Jones indicate that in 1935 she copied the inscriptions of the stones found at that time:

She notes these inscriptions in addition:

- ABBEY Allen s/o Robert & Almira d 10 Dec 1863 æ3y24d

- PHILLIPS William Henry s/o Bevis & Elizabeth d 1843 æ17y
- WATTLES Wallace s/o William & Sarah d 25 Apr 1840

KNOWN MARKED ISOLATED GRAVESITES

- PALMER Lorenzo 1836 and Sylvester 1837, children of Alfred and Sophia PALMER. Double stone propped against a tree in woods on west side of Brockway Road.
- ALEXANDER Lieutenant Campbell, (War of 1812) died of an illness after the Battle of Canadaway Creek and was buried on family-owned land. The large tomb-table is now illegible but remains on original site. A bronze marker has been placed in the Veterans' Section of East Ripley Cemetery.
- BATES Jonathan: "Jonathan Bates died January 20, 1840, aged 67 years, 8 months, 5 days" Directions for finding this stone were written thus by an eighth-grade student. They are accurate: "on Irish St, South Ripley RD1, you go up to the top of the second hill by a big pine woods. you go where they started to cut a road through the woods go up the road 25 ft then stop then go left into the woods Keep going as straight as possible until you come to a cellar stop then go to front of house then look around for an apple tree go over to it stop go on angle 5 feet into the woods and grave should be around there"

BATES, Jonathan not buried in this cemetery but obviously buried in the surrounding area. In the woods off Irish Street there is a cellar hole of a long-gone house and this grave marker may have been used as a doorstep. It reads:

"Jonathan Bates died January 20, 1840, aged 67 years, 8 months, 5 days"

BAPTIST UNION BURYING GROUND

1847-1863

RIPLEY, NEW YORK

The only known written records concerning this abandoned and obliterated cemetery are in were found in church records. There was a list of the first (and perhaps all) burials, a list of twenty-seven names. The first is dated March 1847; burial number 18 is dated February 9, 1853 and those remaining numbered through twenty-seven are without dates

This is a contemporary list, but there is nothing to indicate whether it is a partial list, or if it was discontinued at this point. Several later readings and lists were made at different times, all of which appear here.

Baptist Union Inscriptions in 1935
