Below is a list of changes to county government services by department as a result of COVID-19 precautions. This list will be continuously updated as situations change and it was last updated on November 4, 2020 at 3: 40 p.m.:

In August we expect that 50% of staff will return to the offices on alternating days with daily symptom check, masking, sanitizing and social distancing protocol in place. A few select staff will continue to work from home indefinitely due to health concerns. Since older adults are the most vulnerable to severe consequences or dying from the virus, direct contact with clients will be kept to a minimum until mass vaccination takes place. State requirements for in-person assessments continue to be suspended. Below are program specific changes:
 - Case Management & Caregiver Support: Staff continues to call clients who receive our services to check on their wellbeing and to make sure basic living needs are met, in addition to service needs. During the pandemic, we have deployed additional Personal Emergency Response buttons to people who live alone and have been on our waiting list for service. We have also deployed a small number of animatronic pets to clients for comfort and social support during this time. Assessments for services will continue to be done by phone whenever possible. Staff will continue no contact mailing of masks or item drops to clients when needed. If needed, staff may make an in-home visit provided they follow proper protocols for masking and sanitizing.

They all have implemented proper precautions following local, state, and CDC guidelines. OFA continues to facilitate PPE needs for homecare agencies with EOS when needed.

We continue to explore electronic options at home for those clients who are unable or unwilling to attend in-person due to health risk.
 - Nutrition Services:
 - Meals on Wheels (MOW) continues for those who need an everyday meal service and a welfare check. MOW staff drop meals at the door, as well as, masking, and sanitizing hands before and after delivery. Small coolers have been made available for clients who have difficulty retrieving the meal at the door. Assessments will continue telephonically.
 - Quarantined DOH clients: Meals are being provided when necessary to people quarantined by DOH order. Delivery is via the Sheriff's department.

- Meal drops: A new option during COVID for older people in need of food but do not meet MOW guidelines. These include frozen meals & shelf stable items.

Our offices will be open to clients on a limited basis by appointment only starting in August once glass partitions are installed. Clients visiting any OFA office will be subject to health screening and must wear a mask when not separated by a partition. Cleaning protocols will be implemented before and after visit. OFA may also refer clients to a list of local brokers who have been trained by OFA for assistance.
 - Senior Employment: May start back in August if protocols and guidelines are in place at host agencies. Linda will need to visit each host agency and complete paperwork before this can happen and I will review Linda's findings before they resume. Lacey will be assisting with any nutrition related host agencies.
 - NY Connects Helpline and Office Phone lines: Continue to be manned to answer questions, calm people's fears and direct them to good information.
 - Health & Wellness Programs: Most are not meeting at this time but OFA is working Mayville Access Channel 5 to record and post our local programs on the Access Station on your TV. Already you can attend Healthy Bones and Tai Chi classes if you have an access station which is usually the one with a rolling community calendar. In the coming weeks we will add our Dietician led SNAP education to this grouping so you can stay healthy and active during this time.

Programs can be viewed at U-Tube under Chautauqua Sunrise and we hope to have DVD's available soon to give out. Those group leaders who want to restart in-person classes are being encouraged to do these programs outside when possible and to follow protocols for masking, sanitizing equipment, and social distancing.
